

AIA Inland California

July Chapter Program

When

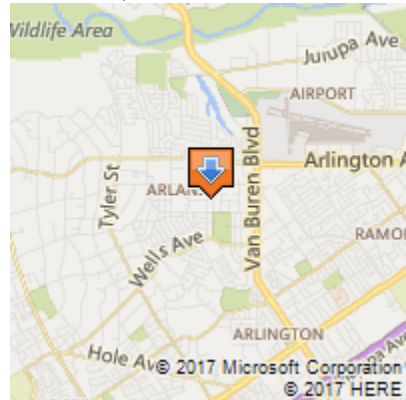

Wednesday, July 19, 2017 from
6:00 PM to 7:30 PM PDT
Add to Calendar

Join your colleagues at Camp Anza in Riverside.
Governor's 2016 Historic Preservation Awardee.
Click here to view Camp Anza History

We will meet in the community center which is the historic officers' quarters.

Where

Camp Anza
5797 Picker Street
Riverside, CA 92503

Driving Directions

Click here to visit Home Front at Camp Anza Today

Our host Ray Adamyk, President, Spectra Company will give a presentation on the restoration and preservation of historic building materials including decorative paint, masonry, wood, concrete and metal. Specific sustainable and environmentally friendly treatment procedures for each material will be discussed. Relevant project case studies will be presented to broaden the participants understanding of the restoration and sustainable techniques for each material.

Learning Objectives:

- * Identify the historic restoration techniques for decorative painting
- * Identify the historic restoration techniques for masonry, wood, concrete and metal
- * Overview of environmentally safe treatments and materials in order to restore and preserve.
- * Overview and discussion of unique case studies where each preservation technique is used, the differences in materials from the past, to the requirements of today

Click on the link below to register now.

<http://conta.cc/2ub7g3H>

This program Qualifies for 1.0 AIA HSW CEU.

Ray Adamyk, President,
Spectra Company

Ray Adamyk founded Spectra Company, headquartered in Pomona, California, 25 years ago. Under his leadership as President and because of his passion for preservation, Spectra Company has grown to become known in the construction industry as the "experts" in historic preservation and the largest preservation specialty contractor in the Western United States, with over 150 employees. Among them, Ray has recruited and managed a team that includes artisans and restoration experts, as well as those educated and experienced in Fine Arts, Preservation Architecture and History.

Visit their website!

Many Thanks to our Program Sponsors:

Chapter Preservation Practitioners

R. Denzil Lee, AIA

Diane Wilk, AIA

Andréa Urbas, Assoc. AIA, AICP

Sincerely,

AIA Inland California Chapter, director@aiaic.org, 909-792-8464